tion will, however, only have weight with those who believe both the title and the cause to be worthy.

"Mr. David P. Foster, of Schenectady county, the candidate for State Prison Inspector, is a man of high standing, and of great importance."

"On the whole, it is an excellent ticket, and the business of all earnest Republicans now is to take hold and secure its success. The importance of this election, not only in its bearing on the Presidential contest of next year, but on the present interests of the State, cannot be exaggerated. Let us take care that no effort is omitted which can render success certain."

"The resolutions of the Convention commend themselves to the favor of all the best supporters of Liberty in its most outrageous pretensions. On the subject of the canals and the freedom of the public lands, they are full and satisfactory; while a cordial welcome is proffered to all those citizens of New York who may now desire to connect themselves with the Republican party of the State."

THE NORTHWESTERN BOUNDARY QUESTION.

The difficulty which has sprung up on the Pacific coast between the American and British authorities is set forth in the following message from the Secretary of State to Congress:

A number of members of Congress are already engaged in the next session.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Mr. McKim, of New York, Minister to Mexico, arrived here today, having left Vera Cruz on the 12th ult. Our Government had previously granted him two months leave of absence.

Reliable accounts just received from Mexico mention that Senor Fuenteb, who held a cabinet office under President Juarez, has been appointed Minister of Finance, and has been discharged by Senor Ocampo, who remains in charge of the Home Department under the Constitutional Government.

All our consuls, with the exception of Mr. Black at the city of Mexico, are everywhere officially recognized. The most friendly feelings are expressed by the Liberalists for the United States, from which they expect assistance in their struggle against the Reactionaries.

On the subject of the canals and the freedom of the public lands, they are full and satisfactory; while a cordial welcome is proffered to all those citizens of New York who may now desire to connect themselves with the Republican party of the State."

and a slave code, they have a right to it. It is their business, not yours. It does not interfere with your rights, and you have nothing to say about it."

It was on this principle that Judge Douglas stood by and saw a brother Senator knocked down and beaten, and refrained from interfering, lest his motives should be misunderstood, and his principle of non-interference be misinterpreted. Mr. Douglas has very anxiously sought the position he occupies. He is not his brother's keeper; but why should he interpose to save him from the hands of ruffians and spoilers?

MESSRS. FORNEY AND DOUGLASS.—The central organ of Senator Douglas, the Washington States, is very anxious to exculpate its favorite from the suspicion of having any connection or sympathy with the Free-Soil Democracy of Pennsylvania, who, following the lead of Messrs. Forney and Hickman, have bolted the regular Administration Democratic ticket at that State. The States says:

"Colonel Forney, of the Philadelphia Press, asserts that Judge Douglas is no more responsible for the conduct of the Free-Soil Democracy in Pennsylvania than he is for the conduct of the Free-Soil Democracy in Massachusetts. He is a man of high standing, and of great importance."

other hand, the Duchies and the Legations to carry out their scheme of annexation to Piedmont. The Emperor, in a leading article, says the Emperor will fulfill his Italian Vindictive agreement for the restoration of the former Kingdom of Naples, and if he should be successful in reuniting the Princes and people in mutual accord, it is not his intention to force either one or the other.

The change in Italian affairs. A deputation from the National Assembly of Modena had gone on a special mission to the Emperor Napoleon.

A speech of Count Mury had attracted considerable attention, being regarded as the enunciation of the views of the Emperor Napoleon. The Count endeavors to show that his English apprehension of a French invasion is groundless, and that France is desirous of cementing the alliance with Prussia.

The Constitution has an article repudiating the alliance with Prussia, and the Emperor Napoleon, in a leading article, says the Emperor will fulfill his Italian Vindictive agreement for the restoration of the former Kingdom of Naples, and if he should be successful in reuniting the Princes and people in mutual accord, it is not his intention to force either one or the other.
